beautiful quilt top was made in the 1930s or 1940s by Sarah Catherine Cauffman in Arkansas. The top was for sale at the 2011 Vernonia Quilt Show, and local resident Jo Ann Tannock fell in love with it. However, she passed on buying it as she remembered all the quilt tops she herself had made which were waiting to be quilted. Then, several months later at a birthday party for Jo Ann, she opened a box and found inside the quilt top from the show – a gift to her from a friend. She was astonished and so pleased. Last winter she couldn't resist the temptation to move it to the top of her to-be-quilted list, so on display is the finished quilt, hand-pieced by Sarah 75 to 80 years ago and hand-quilted by Jo Ann in 2014. It measures 78" x 80."
