

EASTERN OREGON TO ASK $450,000

Asylum for Insane Needs Additional Appropriation, Declares Superintendent.

$200,000 NOT SUFFICIENT

Dr. Plamondon, Head of Institution, Announces That Within Few Days He Will Make Recommendation to Legislature.

PENDLETON, Or., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Superintendent J. D. Plamondon of the Eastern Oregon Branch Asylum for the Insane, announced this evening that he would ask the Legislature for an additional appropriation of about $450,000. The original appropriation was for $200,000. He said his report and recommendations would be presented to the Board of Trustees and Legislature within a few days.

Dr. Plamondon will be aided in his efforts to secure the additional appropriation by Senators Burgess and Barrett and by Representatives Mann and Peterson. He says the entire Umatilla County delegation will work as a unit for the increase.

As soon as the report is in the hands of the Legislature, Superintendent Plamondon expects to begin work on the grounds. He said this evening that one of the first things to be done is the enlargement of the levee so as to better protect the bottom land from the Spring freshets of the Umatilla River.

Dr. Plamondon has been notified that the State Board and Superintendent Steiner of the main asylum at Salem will meet with him here on Friday to visit the asylum site and go over the grounds.

BONDS TO PAY DIVIDENDS Hood River Telephone Company to Borrow for Its Own Profit.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Hood River Telephone Company, the old officers were re-elected. Charles Hall and E. O. Hall will therefore continue in the office of president and secretary respectively. The issuance of bonds was the main business of the meeting and a $200,000 issue will shortly be made. Twenty-four thousand shares were subscribed and the remainder will be made up shortly.

This will enable the company to take up some of the long paper stock it is outstanding and also to pay dividends on the stock. In the past three years the company has paid 25 per cent on the investment.

MRS. DRUSILLA LONG DEAD Resident of The Dalles Came West From Illinois in 1870.

THE DALLES, Or., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Mrs. Drusilla M. Long died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Newton May, early yesterday morning. She was 74 years of age. Mrs. Long was a native of New York. She was married in 1854 to Cyrus H. Parker, and three children were born.

In 1870, Mrs. Parker and her children made the trip West and located on Upper Fifteen-Mile, in Wasco County, where she was married in 1886 to George Long, of Portland. There she resided for 10 years.

Since that time she has made her home at Farmington and the Dalles. The body was taken to Farmington for burial.

WASCO COUNTY TO BUILD New Courthouse Will Cost Not Less Than $60,000.

THE DALLES, Or., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Wasco County will this year get a new courthouse. The present structure has been condemned as too small, unsanitary and unsafe both for the keeping of records and prisoners.

In December the County Court sent out circular letters to the taxpayers, asking their pleasure in regard to remodeling the old building at a minimum cost of $20,000 or building a new one at a minimum cost of $60,000. The replies showed a two-to-one sentiment in favor of a new building.

Each of the proposals in the county favors the proposition.

DEAD MAN IS UNIDENTIFIED Centralia Holds Corpse; Suspects All Prove Alibis.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Although more than 2000 people have visited the morgue, and Corporal Sticklin has exhausted every effort in trying to establish identification, the identity of the young man whose murdered corpse was discovered here five days ago remains a mystery. Sheriff Urquhart has made a number of arrests, but each suspect has managed to clear himself.

Investigation shows that, although the shoes of the dead man were taken away, robbery was not the motive, for a watch was found near the corpse, with other trinkets.

ELMORE CONTEST DELAYED Claim for $35,000 Probably Will Be Heard Within Week.

ASTORIA, Or., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—The claim of W. W. Hildebrand against the estate of the late S. Elmore has been set for hearing in the Probate Court on next Monday but on account of the inability of Judge Judd to be here at that time, the hearing probably will be continued for at least another week. The claim is for $35,000, the value placed on a one-tenth interest in the Elmore salmon cannery.

BANK CHANGES ARE MADE J. W. Maxwell Retires From Directorship of Seattle National Bank.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—A score or more changes in officers, directors and capital stock of Seattle banks were made at yesterday's annual bank meetings.

One of the principal changes was the retirement of J. W. Maxwell from the directorship and vice-presidency of the Seattle National Bank, with which he has been associated for several years. Four new directors were added to the Board of the Everett National Bank of Commerce. The new members are W. P. Butler of Everett, W. G. Collins, T. A. Davies and J. A. Swallow of Seattle. C. F. White and George E. DeStiguer were retired from the Board.

In the First National Bank, the title of cashier was transferred from J. A. Hall to V. H. Moss, both of whom still remain vice-presidents of the institution.

Two new directors were added to the Board of Directors of the Scandinavian American Bank. They are M. L. Shaughnessy and Cashier Lane. All the former directors were re-elected. J. T. Hefferman, president of the Hefferman Trust Co., was elected a director of the Dexter-Horton National Bank.

H. B. Williams, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railroad, was elected a director of the Metropolitan Bank.

C. H. Wingers and J. H. Grant were elected directors of the Mercantile Bank. This institution added $10,000 to the surplus account.

The Citizens' National Bank, the Commercial State Bank and Northwest Trust & Safe Deposit Company, the Citizens' Bank of Georgetown, all re-elected the old directors and officers.

The stockholders of the State Bank of Seattle yesterday authorized the officers of the bank to increase the capital stock of the institution from $100,000 to $200,000.

PRIVATE MENDELL IMPERSONATES ARMY OFFICER.

Man With Alias Must Serve Five Years at Federal Prison on Alcatraz Island.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—For impersonating a United States Army Lieutenant at a horse show in Portland last October and at different Portland hotels, Private Leash H. Mendell, alias Private Able Jackson, was sentenced to five years in prison on Alcatraz Island by a court-martial.

After enlisting on October 1, Mendell with leave, left the post and went to Portland, representing himself as a First Lieutenant in the United States Army. He obtained a room at the Oregon Hotel still representing himself to be an Army officer. He attended the horse show in Portland, where he was at once discovered to be an impostor by officers from the post.

He was at once arrested and brought to this post and charges were preferred against him.

At the trial, Mendell pleaded not guilty to the several charges but he was convicted and the sentence approved.

acquaint Mayor Gaynor by telephone with his intentions.

For more than two hours tonight, seven of the leading Democrats sat in the Teneycke dining room discussing the situation with the Democratic legislators who will try to settle the Senatorial question at their caucus next Monday night, but when the conference ended none would speak of the subject discussed or tell whether they had reached a conclusion.

BAY STATE MAY DEADLOCK Insurgents Will Prevent Lodge's Election, Not Support Democrat.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—What will follow the Republican legislative caucus called for next Monday afternoon to choose a candidate for United States Senator, is the question of leading political interest in Massachusetts.

That Henry Cabot Lodge will be named by the caucus to succeed himself is quite generally conceded, but the point in issue is whether a sufficient number of Republicans to elect will enter the caucus. On joint ballot the Republican vote would be 153, or 12 more than the majority necessary to elect.

The caucus is expected to nominate Lodge by acclamation and then adopt a resolution binding all present to vote for him in the Legislature.

Representative Butler Ames' friends claim to have the pledges of enough Republican members to prevent the reelection of Lodge and these will not enter the caucus, it is said.

At the same time it is declared that some of the "insurgents" will vote for a Democrat, even to beat Lodge, and therefore a deadlock is predicted. The Democrats will caucus tomorrow.

WORKS DECLARES PRINCIPLES Senator-Elect Is in Favor of Direct Election by People.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 11.—Judge John D. Works was formally declared United States Senator at a joint session of the Senate and Assembly today. The Senator-elect appeared before the Legislature and made a short address in which he declared himself in favor of the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people, the conservation of natural resources, a Government-owned line of steamers on the Pacific Coast, the referendum and recall, and the granting of right of suffrage to women.

Pomerene Succeeds Dick. COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 11.—Lieutenant-Governor Pomerene was today elected United States Senator to succeed Senator Dick. All the Democrats in the Legislature voted for him. In a speech he declared against the immediate revision of the tariff and advocated a tariff commission. He said he was in favor of the popular election of United States Senators.

Grants Pass Jury Indicts 22. GRANTS PASS, Or., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—The grand jury, after being in session all last week and a part of this, adjourned until next Saturday morning. Twenty-two indictments have been brought in consisting of larceny, carrying concealed weapons, house-breaking, embezzlement and assault with dangerous weapons. Roy Buntington, charged with larceny, was found not guilty.

LAWMAKERS SNUB SUFFRAGE CHIEF

Washington Legislature Refuses to Hear Mrs. Emma Smith Devoe.

HOUSE IS "WET" BY FIVE

Lower Body Votes Against "Drys," 53 to 41, and Decides Not to Consider Liquor Bills—Columbia River Fishing Talked.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Features of the third day of the Washington Legislature were:

On a vote the House showed that it is "wet" by a majority of five. The House and Senate declined to extend time to Mrs. Emma Smith Devoe, suffrage leader, to address them in regular session.

The employees' compensation act was introduced in the House and Senate. Permission to introduce bills in the House was granted.

Senator Stewart, in a resolution, called for a committee of four Senators and four Representatives to confer with Oregon in relation to fishing in the Columbia River.

In the Senate a bill was introduced by Bryan to ratify the Federal income-tax law.

The House passed a memorial to Congress advocating the pensioning of life-saving crews.

Liquor Question Surprises. The resolution offered by Campbell of Snohomish that "at this session no legislation be had relative to the regulation and sale of intoxicating liquors and that all bills or parts of bills introduced on or relating to the subject be left to the committee on rules without debate," started trouble in the House this morning. It was known that such a resolution was being held in waiting but its introduction caused some surprise and immediately a lively wrangle started. After practically two hours of fighting, the resolution was adopted by a vote of 53 to 41. Now if the House wishes to consider any liquor bill, it must first acquire a two-thirds vote to get the bill introduced.

The "drys" were caught napping. They showed lack of leadership and on several occasions members had to exchange their views as they did not understand the questions before the House. There were 84 present, Driscoll of Pacific and Teas of Pierce being the only absentees.

Those voting for the resolution were: Beach, Bird, Conner, Campbell, Carlyn, Chamberlain, Christensen, Davis, Leung, Dickson, Ennis, Eschelman, Fisher, Fontaine, Foster, Gandy, Garrecht, Ghent, Gillette, Goss, Groff, Haroldson, Hastings, Horrigan, Hovey, Thompson, Hornbrook, Hubbell, Jamieson, Jones, Kelly, Laube, Leonard, Lesourd, McClure, McCoy, McQuessen, Miller, J. A.; Clyde, Minard, Mowbray, Nelson, Shutt, Stevens, Spedden, Stone, Todd, Vollmer, Woodruff, Wright—41.

"Gag Rule" Is Cry. The 53 took things into their own hands after the first flurry of excitement. Shutt of Pierce tried to argue that the resolution was unconstitutional, but he was ruled out of order by the Speaker and a cry of "gag rule" went up. Buchanan of Spokane moved to lay the resolution on the table. A roll call was demanded and the motion was lost. The Speaker ordered that the resolution be read once more at this juncture. Then the final section, which was to be incorporated as part of the rules, was stricken out as it was seen that the "drys" had too many votes to permit the adoption of it as a part of the rules.

Wright of King tried to have the measure sent to the public morals committee, but it failed, 41 to 52, three being absent. Filibustering was tried without success. An attempt was made to put it over until Monday, but that likewise failed. Spedden asked for time to get it and Wright declared that the "wets" were acting in a cowardly manner in attempting to cloud the issue.

The "drys" are far from discouraged and announce that the "wets" will get into trouble as the result of their so-called high-handed tactics.

Twenty-one bills were introduced in the House today. The new bills include an act by Zednick of King, limiting powers of courts in contempt cases; by Ennis of King permitting counties to bond for public improvement; and a bill to date indebtedness already incurred by Mequester of Pierce, who wants pensions for teachers.

In the Senate, Brown of Whatcom introduced the Pacific highway bill calling for a state road from Vancouver, Wash., to Elaine on the Canadian line. Falconer favored the employees' competition act.

Both House and Senate took a recess in the afternoon.

GIRLS MAY LEARN TRADES Bill Seeks Establishment of Manual Schools in Multnomah.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Representative Collins has introduced a bill for establishing, equipping and maintaining trade schools for girls as a part of the public school system of Multnomah County.

The school is intended for the benefit of girls from 14 to 18 years of age. Dependent girls may be admitted to the institution for not less than one year and not more than two years, and all such shall at all times be under the care and authority of the school board.

Admission of all applicants to this branch of the school system are to be passed on by a committee of five members to be appointed by the Board of Education.

Alaskan Indians Are Married. CHEWAWA, Or., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—Two Alaskan Indians were married at the Chewawa Indian School this evening at 7 P. M. by Rev. Davis of Salem. They were Frank Rosenberger and Allah Madison. The bride was a member of the class of 1910, while the groom received an industrial education in the steam and electrical engineering department of the school and has been employed as an engineer of the United States Indian School, located at Tulip, Wash. They left on the evening train for Portland.

cup of coffee last night, they grumbled and when they returned to the jail they formed a union and decided to boycott the restaurant.

All stood firm today at breakfast and dinner. This evening one surrendered and went to his supper, but the other five prisoners continue to be on strike.

At every meal time an officer will ask the men to prepare for their meals and those who desire to go may have that privilege. The prisoners are fed at a small restaurant. Their meals cost 15 cents each.

LEWIS CITIES COMPLAIN Better Rates Are Asked by Chehalis and Centralia.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Jan. 11.—(Special.)—The complaints of the Chehalis Citizens' Club and the Centralia Commercial Club asking for better freight rates have been filed with the Washington State Railroad Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The complaint filed with the State Commission asks for the establishment of just and equitable local and distributive rates. The complaint sent to the National Commission asks that the terminal freight rates which were taken away from Chehalis and Centralia about two years ago be restored.

The state complaint filed with the Washington Commission has been directed at the Northern Pacific and Great Northern, but the O. & W. will be affected directly by the decision. The hearing will be held at Tacoma.
